Various Forms of Amusement Provided—Lodge Officer Gives Address —Local School Dismisses.

A parade of fifteen floats, all artistically decorated, was the feature of the Modern Woodmen picnic held at Skidmore yesterday.

About 2,000 persons are believed to have been present at the festivities, under the auspices of the Skidmore M. W. A.

The Skidmore Neighborly Club, with a float depicting an outdoor scene in a Japanese teagarden, won first prize. The Successful Club, east of Skidmore, won second prize with its float containing a large number of Nodaway County products. The Royal Neighbors and Eastern Stars of Skidmore tied for third place.

All of the floats entered in the parade were first-class and showed careful preparation for exhibit in yesterday's parade.

The Skidmore M. W. A. tug-of-war team challenged any eight men in the crowd for a match. The contest resulted in a defeat for Skidmore. The Skidmore team then issued a challenge for a log-rolling contest and was again defeated.

A baseball game between the Quitman All-Stars and the Maitland town team was another feature of the afternoon's entertainment. The Quitman nine won the game 16 to 4.

NO. 27 TO GO WEST BARNARD

SURVEYING PARTY IS NOW AT ROSENDALE.

ROUTE SATISFACTORY

For Primary Road From Engineer's Standpoint—Crosses White Cloud West of Present Crossing.

This week's Rosendale Signal says the highway from the end of the pavement south of Maryville to Savannah will go near the Central school house, west of Barnard, south to the county line, crossing the White Cloud creek about three-quarters of a mile west of the present crossing on route 27. The surveyors are now at Rosendale. The article from the Rosendale paper follows:

The party of surveyors, under the direction of Walter J. Eddleman, who began on September 8, at the north end, the work of laying out the proposed highway No. 27 between Maryville and St. Joseph, have reached within a short distance of Rosendale yesterday morning and are working southeast of Mrs. Wallace's corner to the Barty Pettijohn place and on south on the east side of the J. A. Porterfield hill, one-fourth mile west of Rosendale.

N. R. Sack, divisional highway engineer, of St. Joseph, in company with Mr. Eddleman, went over the ground Tuesday and Wednesday all the way south from Mrs. Wallace's to a point north of Savannah and made a general view of the proposed route, covering about a mile wide and have selected the route they will follow up with the survey.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Eddleman, whom the Signal interviewed last night, we are able to give our readers the following facts concerning the progress, the actual route gone over, and the route they will cover from here south.

Mr. Eddleman says: "We began one mile south of the pavement south of Maryville and ran southeast by the Central School house to a point about one mile south and one-fourth mile east of said school house, then straight south to the county line, crossing the White Cloud about three-fourths mile west of the present crossing on route 27. From county line to road running north and south directly in front of the Pierce Montgomery house, and from here we angled a little east with a straight line to the northwest corner to the northwest corner of Mrs. Wallace's farm one and one-half miles northwest of Rosendale, passing by the house and barn of J. J. Schmitt, one-fourth mile east of the Joe Townsend place, and east of the Hickory Point school house about three eighths of a mile.

Mr. Eddleman stated that the route gone over so far has met with all the requirements for a primary road and is satisfactory from an engineer's standpoint.

From the Wallace corner the work was resumed this morning as we go to press and according to Mr. Eddleman, he is authorized to move southeast through the Aunt Mary Smith farm, crossing the northeast corner of Joda Gilmour's to Barty Pettijohn's and on the east side of the hill on the J. A. Porterfield farm, connecting with the half-section line and about one-half mile southwest of Rosendale, running south, about one-fourth miles west of Ray Porterfield's and on the line between Anderson Swartz and Jakie Baum. From here, will follow the half section line south to a point near the Burlington railroad, and crossing the railroad and creek about 700 feet west of the present crossing, and from here along the "draw" about one-fourth mile west of C. S. Adkins, and on south getting back into the old roadbed at the Carter place, and follow it to where highway No. 1 intersects 27 and still on south within a mile of Savannah, then leaving the old road and following the C. G. W. railroad, then across the overhead bridge at the north city limits.

The awarding is for work early next spring and attracted contractors from almost a dozen states.

OIL BOOM IS BEING REVIVED

SOLICITORS ARE IN MARYVILLE TODAY.

QUOTA FIXED $10,000

About $2,600 Put Into Project Here By Noon Today—Others Out With Subscription Papers.

The oil boom near Quitman is again being revived. Several promoters in that vicinity are out in the county this week pushing vigorously the proposition to raise at least $10,000 for the purpose of drilling an oil well a short distance southeast of Quitman in the vicinity of the Florida Creek.

A survey was made about a year ago in this vicinity and the prospects for striking oil in this region were considered even better than where wells have been drilled at Hamburg, Ia., and at Breckenridge, Mo., by Howard Manning, supervising geologist.

An effort was made several months ago to make the proposition a county-wide affair and persons throughout the county were given the chance to take an interest in drilling an oil well near Quitman. However, at the present time the promoters are interesting those who will contribute at least $100, or more.

In the city and vicinity today were Howard Manning and Joe Carden of Quitman, who had more than fair success with their proposition. More than twenty-five persons by this noon had signified their intentions of becoming interested in an oil well and it is understood there are nine other subscription lists being circulated in the county. As soon as the quota is raised a meeting of the interested parties will be called and action taken to get equipment on the ground for drilling a well. The geologist is of the opinion that oil will be struck at 1,700 feet.

What has put faith in the proposition is that men like R. I. Bilby and other influential men in Quitman and vicinity are putting all their efforts into the proposition.

TO DEFENSE OF GOV. BAKER

HIS SECRETARY EXPLAINS HIS VARIOUS ACTS.

MUST HOLD UP FUNDS

Over-Appropriation by Last Legislature Is Cited for Reason of Present Economy Policy of Administration

Jefferson City, Sept. 25.—H. O. Harrawood, executive secretary to Governor Baker, today in an explanation of the financial status of the treasury, said it still is necessary for the Governor to continue to hold up $2,500,000 of appropriations passed by the last Legislature.

Mr. Harrawood pointed out the Legislature over-appropriated the revenues $6,343,418 for the two-year period, and that no additional appropriations can be released by the Governor until after January 1.

He called attention that the general revenue in the treasury had been reduced to $667,000, September 17, as compared with $2,296,000 at the same period last year.

"The veto power in its varied interpretations has been exercised by Governor Baker from the beginning of his administration," said Mr. Harrawood. "The fact his ability to say 'no' resolutely where his conscience and his better judgment so dictated has characterized the man and has been one of the principal stumbling blocks of designing politicians, petty office-seekers and sentimentalists in their efforts to dictate the personnel and policies of the administration."

The executive secretary said the Governor's ability to say "no" also has greatly increased the population of the penitentiary.

He cited the fact that the Governor had pardoned only one person and paroled only five.

Mr. Haller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haller of Wilcox and is a brother of Guy Haller of Maryville.

Says More Men Are Taking to Use Cosmetics

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 25—More and more men are learning to rouge, marcel their hair and gloss their finger nails as a means of making a better impression in business, according to Mrs. Helen E. Cook, supervison of the National School of Cosmeticians. She made the statement in a lecture to the Cincinnati Business Women's Club.

A number of prominent businessmen came to her for marcels. Some ask for rouge and learn how to apply it to avoid the appearance of hollow cheeks. Men have not yet taken to the lipstick, she said, because most of them smoke, but she predicted that eventually men will employ nearly all the expedients now used by women to make themselves "good to look upon."

Mrs. Cook is against smoking, even for women, contending it spoils the shape of the mouth, makes the face sallow, fills the hair with a permanent odor and makes mustaches grow.

Alleged Assailant Is Partially Identified

Possible Solution To Murder Mystery Is Uncovered When Boy Is Pointed Out As Girl's Slayer.

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—A possible solution to the mysterious murder last Friday night of Miss Edith Krumm and the wounding of Andrew Loftus, Jr., was uncovered when Loftus from his hospital bed partialy identified Terrence Mahoney, 17, as their assailant. Loftus said Mahoney had gone to school with him in Lenaxa.

Mahoney previously had denied knowing Loftus.

Lenaxa and Overland Park, Kan., have been so aroused over the slaying of the girl that awards totaling $2,600 have been offered.

Miss Krumm died from bullet wounds received when a bandit attacked them both as Loftus went to the girl's aid when the bandit attempted to assault her.

CAILLAUX HAS FIRST DEFEAT

INITIAL PROPOSAL UNANIMOUSLY TURNED DOWN.

U. S. STILL HAS HOPE

American Delegation, Headed By Secretary Mellon, Believes That Satisfactory Agreement Will Be Made.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The real trading over the adjustment of the four billion-dollar French war debt to the United States began today between Joseph Caillaux, French minister, and Andrew Mellon, Secretary of Treasury.

The initial proposal formulated by M. Caillaux and put forth by him in the first session of the two debt commissions has been found "entirely unacceptable" to the Americans. It strayed so far from the British and other agreements already consummated and differed so radically from what the Americans believe constitutes a fair adjustment that American opinion was unanimous in rejection.

Disappointing as Caillaux's proposal was to the American commission, there was still optimism displayed on all sides today that ultimately an agreement will be reached.

Caillaux's original proposal, described as a "feeler" was an involved one and one that was extremely generous to France. While its details have not been officially divulged, it was learned that it amounted to something like this:

Consolidation of the entire French debt, war, post-war and supplies, into a single sum, with the accrued interest scaled down from 5 per cent to a figure approximating 2 per cent; a graduated scale of payments beginning modestly at twenty million dollars annually for a considerable period, and then gradually increasing to an approximately seventy million dollars during the latter years of the agreement; the whole to bear an interest rate of the same 2 per cent, or less.

Animal Trainer Is Attacked by Two Angry Lions

Texarkana, Tex., Sept. 25.—Clyde Beatty, animal trainer with a circus was severely clawed by an angry lioness while putting a group of animals through their act at the night performance of the show here.

Two of the largest of the eighteen lions and two tigers were in a bad humor and Beatty had difficulty in getting into the cage at both performances. At the night performance one mad animal slapped at him, causing him to fall. The lioness made a second spring at him, sinking her claws deep into his arm and lacerating it from shoulder to wrist.

Beatty fought off the lioness and put the animals through their acts while blood streamed from his arm.

OUT TO "GET" COL. MITCHELL

NAVY AND ARMY ARE COMBINING THEIR FORCES.

BOARD TO OPPOSE IT

Chairman Morrow Serves Notice That Investigators Will Not Listen To "Controversies Over Personalities"

Washington, Sept. 25—The army and navy are out to "scalp" Col. William Mitchell, the man who stirred up the present air row.

This became increasingly evident today when it was reliably learned that the navy would join the army in a concerted attack upon Mitchell when he appears before the President's aviation inquiry board next week.

An echo of the plans being made by military chiefs against Mitchell has reached board members. Cognizance was taken of it by Dwight Morrow, chairman, who announced that the board would refuse to listen to "controversies over personalities."

A full report on Mitchell has been laid before high navy officials. The record will be guarded closely and later presented to the President's air board. With it his opponents hope to discredit the flying colonel in the eyes of the public.

The navy's case, however, was somewhat upset today by the frank advocacy of Commander John Rodgers, in charge of the PN-9 No. 1, Hawaiian flyer, for an air board. That was unlooked for by navy officials.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Maybe Frank Stutz, who directs publicity for the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners, isn't altogether disinterested, in the blood-curdling stories he tells of the dangers of cleaning things with gasoline.

Maybe he wants to throw a scare into the public, so it will take its clothes to his association's members to be cleaned, instead of trying to clean them at home.

Nevertheless some of his talk is interesting.

"Isn't it safe enough if you keep it away from light?" I asked, in rejoinder to one of Frank's statements to the effect that a pint of gasoline and a pound of dynamite are about in the same class.

"My, no," said Frank. "Gasoline is a dry liquid—"

"What do you mean, dry liquid?" I interrupted. "Dry like gin?"

"I mean it's a liquid with no water in it," Frank explained. "That's why we say 'dry cleaning.' Like many dry liquids, gasoline's capable of producing electric sparks on being swished about. Didn't you ever notice that gasoline delivery wagons drag a chain along the ground? That's to carry off electric charges before they accumulate and blow 'em up."

Rubbing together surfaces of stuff like silk or wool will generate frictional electricity, too," Frank went on, "and in a dish of gasoline it's dangerous. It produces sparks, often a quarter of an inch long— equal to a 5000-volt spark.

"If the air's damp enough and the stuff that's being cleaned is damp enough also, the spark is dissipated and no harm's done. But if there's a little moisture about, as on hot, dry summer days or cold, dry winter ones, the spark sets off the gasoline fumes, which are mighty potent mixed with the correct portion of air, and—wham up you go."

"First-class dry cleaning plants," related Stutz, "do their work in an atmosphere at least 55 per cent moist. Sixty is better and some insist on 70 per cent.

"They take hourly moisture readings and whenever the air's water content falls below the safety mark it's artificially dampened at once. Even at that careful cleaners have all their vessels ground connected to carry off any electricity that may be generated despite their precautions."

MR. VAUCLAIN'S RECIPE.

When the colored "mammy" said, "you don't make hash; it jest 'cumulates,'" not a boarder disputed her word, and yet rich and poor alike disagreed with Samuel Vauclain when he offered the same receipt for making money.

The president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works says the only reason he is paying a big income tax today is because he has always been too busy to spend the money his industry has brought him, so the money accumulated. He believes that man is intended to be industrious and frugal and that money is intended to be saved.

Mr. Vauclain's rule for accumulating is an admirable one for all stations in life. What are regarded by him as necessities would probably be luxuries to most of us but every man can adjust his habits of living so as to save something out of his income, if he has a living wage. Every person with an income, without ruinously luck, can save something. Of course large savings must come from large incomes but most of the men with large incomes started with small incomes and economical habits. In other words, the penny saved today becomes the dollar of the future.

WAS NEWS IN A. D. 49.

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for September 27, 1925.

Review Lesson.

Wm. Southern, Jr.

The following news story might have been printed in The Antioch Herald sometime in A. D. 49:

"One of the greatest meetings ever held in Antioch was that last night at the temple on the hill, when a great multitude of the people of the city gathered to do honor to our fellow citizens, Barnabas of Cyprus, and Paul, who came to us a little more than a year ago from Tarsus. These two eminent travelers have just returned from a wonderful trip in which they endured much danger and many hardships. At one time in Lystra, Paul was attacked by a mob and stoned and left for dead. His recovery was almost miraculous and despite his considerable injuries he continued his work establishing churches for the peculiar denomination, which is called Christian, a name given these devoted people in this city.

"These two men sailed from our port Selucia and their first stop was Cyprus, where Barnabas formerly lived and where they received distinguished attention and established several churches. Their only adventure on the island was when they came into contact with Elymas, a famour magician at Paphos. Elymus was the favorite of our distinguished Pro Consul Sergius Paulus and he opposed strongly the bearers of a new faith. Elymus was strangely stricken during the controversies and it is reported, indeed both Barnabas and Paul, claim, that the Pro Consul became a Christian.

"From Paphos the two adventurers went over into Asia Minor and were bitterly opposed everywhere by the Jews. John Mark, nephew of Barnabas who accompanied them thus far, returned home. At Antioch in Pisidia they established a strong church, but were driven out by the Jews. Their opponents followed them then wherever they went and succeeded in having them driven out of Iconium and Lystra and at Lystra Paul was stoned and left for dead outside the city walls. The scars from this adventure still show on his face and he limps a little. But he was revived by the attentions of his companion and went as far as Derbe and then returned over the same route, visiting the churches they had established and returning home.

"The meeting last night was called to order by the Mayor of the City who introduced Barnabas as chairman. There were several warm welcoming speeches and after the travelers had reported on their journey, many congratulatory talks were made. The great audience was enthused to a high pitch. It seems that this is the first time this church has sent missionaries to other lands and that it is the first church to do so.

"After the meeting the reporter for The Herald heard rumors to the effect that the head church of the Christians at Jerusalem was dissatisfied with the work of Barnabas and Paul on this trip and had called a convention and summoned the distinguished citizens of Antioch to Jerusalem to answer the charge that they admitted men who were not jews to the membership in the new church and if so why. It is said that the convention will be held at an early date."

From the same paper at a later date "Barnabas and Paul whose adventures have heretofore been recorded in these columns, have just returned from Jerusalem, where they were summoned by the rulers of the church on heresy charges. From what we can learn from citizens of Jerusalem they were exonerated by the convention but were warned to be careful in the future. It seems that Barnabas and Paul organized churches in Asia Minor without requiring certain Jewish rites and ceremonies. They admitted this to be true and after a hot session and many speeches their presentation of the facts was so clear that the convention voted that they had done right. James the chairman of the meeting and head of the church in Jerusalem, was finally won over to their side and the report which was adopted by the convention was framed by a committee composed of James and John and Peter, who took depositions and heard the evidence. Barnabas and Paul are again at home and it is understood are planning a longer and more dangerous trip."

So might an Antioch paper have reported the first Missionary Journey of Paul and Barnabas and its results as told in the studies of the quarter we have just finished. The rumor mentioned in the last article was indeed true. Not only did Paul and Barnabas contemplate another journey but they divided into two companies and each made a journey, Paul accompanied by Silas, a Roman Christian from Jerusalem and Barnabas by John Mark. Our studies have to do with Paul's trip in which he was joined by Timothy who became his close friend and whom he loved as a son and also by Dr. Lucanus who joined the party at Troas.

On this journey Paul started to go further into Asia but was prevented and went instead into Europe and established the church at Philippi, Beroea, and at Thessalonica and stopped at Athens. He had a wonderful visit at Beroea where the Jews were students of the Bible and gave him willing attention.

It was while he was at Corinth after he had been in Athens that Paul wrote his letter to the Thessalonians, the first portion of the New Testament ever written.

I have used this method of placing before you a brief sketch of Paul's first missionary journey and part of the second to show just how simple it all was, just how naturally the work of establishing the Christian church was developed. So many of us study the Bible as if it were an imaginary book too sacred to be handled. Indeed, it took many hundreds of years to get the Bible into the hands of the people even after it was printed and to this day we do not readily look on the Bible as a study of the lives of men who actually lived and whose great work made the Christian religion possible for us today.

Paul and Barnabas, John Mark and Silas, Dr. Luke the historian were all men who lived in stirring times and who did brave things and whose labors and dangers and work have given us much of our conception of God. Indeed we have nowhere else so clearly expressed the relations of man to his maker as in the works of Paul.

Paul urged all men of his day to live rightly, think about truth, justice, love and right things. He required no forms and ceremonies, he promulgated no creed. Paul's requirement for a Christian was that he

CREW DEFENDS SHIP

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 25.—A recommendation to the navy department for substitute engines for the dirigible Shenandoah was made, presumably by Commander Zachary Lansdowne, fully fifteen months before the ship crashed to earth in Ohio on September 3, it was learned today.

Capt. G. W. Steele, commander of the Lakehurst naval air station, confirmed this report and said the plans for the new engines had not reached the experimental stage.

This recommendation for a change in engine power which did not materialize before the Shenandoah loss was considered significant by aviation experts.

Following the testimony of Col. C. G. Hall, army aviation observers aboard the airship, given before the naval board of inquiry here that the loss of the Shenandoah was indirectly due to the failure of two of its engines, the surviving crew members came to the defense of the Shenandoah's cruising efficiency in today's session of the naval board of inquiry.

Every witness refuted the testimony of Colonel Hall that "if the dirigible had the use of her full engine power, she would have been able to avoid the vortex of the storm."

In Seance Tells of Gloomy Debt Funding Scenes

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 25.—A gloomy picture of debt funding deliberations between representatives of the United States and France was painted today for Joseph Caillaux, head of the French mission, by Miss Belle Bard, director of the Academy of Astrology of New York at a private seance here.

Miss Bard informed Caillaux at the French embassy that the negotiations would be "anything but harmonious" and sharp controversies would flare up at frequent intervals. She warned him to be cautious on either September 27 or 28.

"About that time," she said, "the conference, which has been bitter, will settle down and a tentative agreement contingent upon further information from other sources, probably some other government would be reached.

"This agreement, however, will not be consummated until the period between October 6 and 14. But even then it will not prove to be permanent because of other questions that will arise.

"Avoid dotted lines," she warned ominously.

"She is a lovely woman," said Caillaux after the interview, which he personally requested by radio from midocean. "What she told me was amusing."

But beyond this he refused to go.

Encouraging predictions on Caillaux political fate were given the French statesmen by Miss Bard. She told him that he would make rapid strides up the French political ladder next year and may become prime minister.

She emphasized that the greatest difficulty confronting the French debt delegation was the failure of many members of the American commission to handle the debt problem with "necessary philosophical statesmanship."

Chilton Robinson returned last night from a week's visit with friends in Des Moines, Ia.

Detroit Is Declared "Wettest" City in U. S.

BY FOSTER EASTON.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 25.—After six years of prohibition, officials at the head of four government agencies charged with enforcing the law here admit Detroit is probably one of the wettest spots in the United States.

One of the four officials, A. B. Stroup, new federal prohibition administrators for Eastern Michigan, goes all the way and says he believes the city is "the wettest in the country."

Stroup recently came here from Boston after two years at the head of the New England enforcement division which he brought to a high degree of efficiency.

The three officials who join in the lesser indictment are Carey D. Ferguson, U. S. collector of customs, Detroit who recently assumed charge of the "dry navy" on Detroit river; Alan G. Straight, state commissioner of public safety in charge of state constabulary and Frank H. Croul, police commissioner of Detroit.

The number of "blind pig" saloons in operation here are variously estimated all the way from 1,500 admitted by Croul to 15,000, a newspaper guess.

An apparently copious source of supply is generally admitted to be both Canadian and domestic in origin.

French Finance Minister Has Had Turbulent Career

When Joseph Caillaux, French finance minister, arrived in this country to begin debt negotiations on behalf of his nation, it market another important step in his turbulent career.

Following are outstanding dates and events in the life of Caillaux, who has reached the age of 62:

1899—Became minister of finance in the Waldeck-Rousseau cabinet, serving until 1902.

1911—Became premier, resigning within a few months owing to cabinet dissensions.

1913—Became minister of finance in the Doumergue cabinet, but withdrew from the post after his wife had shot and killed Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro, actuated by his bitter criticism of her husband. Mrs. Caillaux was acquitted.

1918—Arrested by order of President Clemenceau and charged with treason and intelligence with the enemy.

1920—Found guilty after he had been imprisoned or a patient in hospitals for two years.

1924—Amnesty granted by French senate.

1925—Became minister of finance and began negotiations with Washington toward funding of French debt to the United States of which the present visit is a result.

Ear of Corn Weighs 2 lbs and 3 Ounces

(Burlington Junction Post)

W. W. Jones has on display at his feed store what he claims is the largest ear of corn in Missouri, and it is up to someone who has grown a larger ear to "show him," for Mr. Jones is from Missouri and proud of it. The ear is a yellow ane and was grown by W. E. Nicholas, Jr. It weighs two pounds and three ounces and is certainly a fine one. Mr. Jones also has some other fine ears of different varieties on display at his store.

With such corn as there is around Burlington Junction this year, why can't we put on a corn show a little later on and show the world what kind of corn grows here.

"Night Ship" Gripping Story with Star Cast

With an all-star cast headed by Mary Carr and Robert Gordon, "The Night Ship" comes to the Empire Theater tonight and Saturday. "The Night Ship" is a story of land and sea. From a fishing village it takes the audience out upon the sea where a boat loaded with contraband is on its way to a South American country. A terrible fight ensues, followed by a terrific explosion.

It has a superb hero, a beautiful woman, unscrupulous characters of wealth and power, and a plot that is thrilling and exciting. This is a red-blooded story, romantic, glamorous, yet strikingly realistic, something new in screen narratives.

Tong War Believed Cause of Murder

Valuable Box Which Chinese Had Guarded In Kansas City Is Missing After Slaying.

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—Mystery in what was first believed to be a sequel to the nation-wide tong war, the killing this morning of Lee Wing, member of the On Leong tong of Chicago, became complicated with the discovery that a large box which Lee had kept close to his person during his three weeks here had been taken by the killer.

None of the money or valuable jewels had been touched. Police are inclined to believe that the box contained valuable tong messages to headquarters in San Francisco.

Wear Clothes to Fit Conscience, Says a Minister

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 25.—The fig leaf aprons of Adam and Eve satisfied their consciences, so there is no reason why modern women cannot be moral in abbreviated apparel, the Rev. M. F. Scruby pastor of the Haynes Street Baptist church says.

Explaining his sermon on "What Clothes a Christian Should Wear," Dr. Scruby declared:

"I object to false modesty that condemns women to wear clothes that are unsightly, uncomfortable and unhealthy. Surely a low neck dress is more beautiful than the drab cape and bonnet. The knickered girl has come in for criticism, but actually she is more completely covered than the average woman.

"The human body is the mast beautiful thing in the world and perhaps should be displayed as we would exhibit any other object of marvelous art."

Trenton Bulldogs and Green City Play Today

(Trenton Republican)

The Trenton High School "Bulldogs" of 1925 went through their final work-out yesterday evening for their first game which will be played today against the formidable Green City aggregation, always one of the hardest teams on the Trenton schedule.

No advance "dope" on the strength of the Green City eleven has been obtained but Coach Jerry Lewis is counting on a real struggle. His squad is in top notch condition and this afternoon polished off the week's scrimmage with a light practice and signal work.

The squad which Lewis takes to Green City includes Horner, end, Steel, tackle, Reams, guard, Taylor, center, Williams and Forbes, guards, Graham, tackle, Sheetz and Walker, ends. Moore, Jones, Reddig, Pond, Harold Williams and Wid Martin, backfield men.

Strike Call for Non-Union Miners in W. Va.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 25.—With a strike call to the non-union miners of Northern West Virginia effective on Friday and a gigantic mass meeting of mine workers and leaders at Fairmont on Saturday, the bituminous coal fields of this section are again in the limelight.

The strike call is another effort to call out the men who are working on the non-union plan. They have been invited to join by September 26. The union is anxious to reduce the production tonnage of the West Virginia coal fields, which has mounted steadily since the anthracite strike went into effect.

DON GOFORTH ASST. LEADER

TAKES CHARGE FIRST PRACTICE OF HIGH SCHOOL BAND.

28 PIECES IN BAND

H. O. Hickernell, College Faculty Music, Director—Makes First Appearance Today.

Donald Goforth, a senior in the Maryville High School, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goforth, 1001 East Second street, is assistant director of the high school band, taking charge at its first practice period yesterday. H. O. Hickernell, of the College faculty of Music is the director. There are twenty-eight pieces in the band, consisting of experienced high school musicians, trained under former director, L. J. Schnabel.

The band will make its first appearance at a student body assembly, which will be held in the high school auditorium, on Monday morning. A full program of marches and overtures will be played. The program will be announced in the Saturday edition of the Democrat-Forum.

Director Goforth is responsible for the practice period of the band, taking charge at such practices which Mr. Hickernell would be unable to attend. He has authority to plan and direct at public appearances of the band, in pep meetings, at football games and other athletic games of the school year. It is the first time in the history of the music department of the local school that a student has had such a position of responsibility in directing the work of the band boys. Mr. Goforth, throughout his past high school life, has been an active member of the band and orchestra, playing the clarinet. Last year he served in the capacity of vice-president of the student body.

The melodious tunes that echoed about the high school building yesterday as the band was in practice was an example of this year's season of band work—full of pep and action.

Director Goforth says, "The band will be beyond approach this season because of the determination and spirit of the twenty-eight boys who reported. We are out for an unusual band season." "The band this year," the student director added, "will take advantage of all opportunities to make appearances in public, in student meetings, at assemblies, demonstrations and things for advertising purposes of the school, to promote spirit and enthusiasm."

The uniforms, which were first purchased and worn last year, will be the regulation requirement for this year.

The members of the band are:

Clarinets: Maurice Woodburn, Glenn Litch, David Moore, Kermit Moore, Carl LeRoy Fisher, William Person, John Henry Heath; Cornets: Kenneth Greeson, Theodore Breedlove, Harold Warner, Russell Thompson, Wilson Dowden, Marvin Lyle, Earl Somerville; Alto Horns: Veldon Anderson, Graham Malotte; Trombones: Herbert Hudson, Ermon Barrett, Walter Dow, Richard Nelson; Bass Horns: Robert Porter, Frank Hartness; Saxaphones: Willis Wamsley, Ralph Hudson, Maurice Strong; Bassoon: Lewis Moore; Drums, Cleo Yehle, Lawrence Wray.

L. L. St. Clair, principal has expressed his confidence in the work the band is doing, and Superintendent L. E. Ziegler, who was present at the practice yesterday, saw the musicians start off with a "bang" and has no doubts as to what the boys can and will "put across."

Senators Win 2nd Straight Flag in American League

For the second consecutive year under the leadership of the youthful manager, Buck Harris, the Washington Senators have won the American League pennant. By defeating Cleveland yesterday in a double header, 4 to 3 and 6 to 2, while St. Louis nosed out Philadelphia, the only contender, 6 to 4 in an eleven inning contest, Washington clinched the American League flag and won the right to play the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 1925 World Series.

The first World Series game will be played in the National League city, Pittsburgh, October 7. Unless two of the mainstays of the Washington team recoup speedily, the Senators will be handicapped in the coming series of world championship, as Manager Harris is nursing a lacerated finger on his throwing hand and Roger peckinpaugh, throwing hand and Roger Peckinpaugh, ankle.

The New York Giants made sure of second place in the National League yesterday when the Pirates were defeated 4 to 0.

A. F. Lett, our popular druggist, installed a Frigidaire Cabinet of six can capacity last week, which will not only enable him to keep a larger assortment of ice cream on hand, but will eliminate the use of ice in keeping it in good condition. This will be quite an item to him as it is difficult to obtain ice at this season of the year.

The heavy rains on last Sunday night and on Tuesday thoroughly saturated the ground and all work in the fields has been delayed by reason of so much moisture.

Farmers are finding it very difficult to gather corn enough to feed as the fields are so soft that a team can not pull more than a small amount at a time. Wheat sowing has been delayed also and few fields will be dry enough to work before the middle of next week.

John Bosch, county secretary of the M. F. A. attended an enthusiastic farm club meeting at White Oak, near Guilford, the first of the week at which about 300 persons were in attendance. Music was furnished by the Guilford band and short talks were made by W. B. Torrance, Mr. Griggs and Mr. Bosch. Ice cream and cake was served by the members of the White Oak Club.

Judging from the first game of the season there is a bright outlook for the Pickering basketball team this year.

The game which was played Friday, September 18, between the Burlington Junction and Pickering teams resulted in a final count of 27 to 10 in favor of the Pickering team. The entire game was featured by close guarding. The next game will be played Friday, September 25 at Conception Junction.

Considering the condition of the roads, the attendance at the services last Lord's Day was fine. The special musical numbers at both services, morning by the girls choir, and at night by Mrs. Flossie Lincoln, were well enjoyed. We hope to have some more specials next Sunday.

Come to both services, Bible School and preaching, 10-12, a. m. and preaching at 7:45 p. m.

The pastor will probably be in Harrison County Saturday, being called there by sickness.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Grains suffered further setbacks in today's dealing on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat suffered greatest losses. Course grains were off in sympathy.

Resumption in general selling sent wheat tumbling for the second consecutive day. The drop was accelerated by stop loss orders.

Corn lost ground. Most of the trade seemed interested in the conduct of wheat.

Oats followed corn in a featureless market.

NOBODY LOVES YOU

It is impossible to get anywhere if you are a crab. Nobody loves you. To be successful you must have a kindly, lovable disposition. You can not have this with an unhealthy liver and stomach. They don't go together. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has given complete and permanent results in thousands of such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. At all druggists.—Adv.

Announcement

Starting today and continuing through the school term, we will dry clean and return on Saturday all school children's clothing in our office Friday night. Or if you will call late Friday afternoon or before 8:30 Saturday morning, our service car will call at your home. In adopting this policy our regular production schedule will be disrupted, but we believe you expect this added convenience to our unfailing service.
